

♥ Calling All Readers! ♥

It's almost LOVE OF READING WEEK and we need your help! Love Of Reading week is March 5th-9th and we need volunteers to read to our students. You can read to any grade level you feel comfortable with. We ask that you come prepared to have a short discussion with the class on why reading is important in your life. Then you will have the opportunity to read poetry, a picture book or a chapter from your favorite children's book (we can provide one for you, if you'd like). Our goal is to build our students' love for reading and their understanding for the importance for reading. We would love to have parents as well as community members come and read. If you have any connections with news, radio, uniformed personnel (military, law enforcement, firefighters, EMT, etc.), athletes, or coaches that might be willing to come read to the kids let us know. They would be great additions to our list. We look forward to a great week of guest readers!

Please contact your child's teacher or Mrs. Baca at bacac@vailschooldistrict.org for further details or to sign up to be a volunteer reader!
